The Vocational Training School

The Fulton City Commission dispensed with a full agenda of business on Monday night, making payments to on-going development programs now in the working stage all around the city.

Unquestionably the most important matter brought before the municipal officers was the fact that on the motion of Commissioner Bob Craven, the officials unanimously voiced "strong objection" to the levy of a 3% utility tax with which to establish a vocational training school in Fulton County.

Although the opposition from the Fulton City Commission is significant, it has no legal bearing as to whether the permissive levy can be made.

On the same evening the Fulton City School Board delayed any definite action on the matter which they have had under advisement for nearly a month. In order to comply with the legalities to levy a permissive tax on utilities to construct the vocational school building the Fulton City Independent School Board must join with the Fulton County School Board in petitioning the Fulton County Fiscal Court to establish the tax structure, set at three per cent of the gross utilities (gas, electricity, water, telephone) receipts in Fulton County.

Regrettable Exposure

It is regrettable that the blaring headlines here about a 3% utility tax has completely distorted the legalities involved in the manner by which such a tax can be imposed upon utility consumers.

True, it is a "permissive" tax, meaning that the Fulton City School Board, with the Fulton County School Board can petition the Fiscal Court to levy the tax without a referendum.

But the fact that the consumers involved have the privilege to protest the tax, at the ballot box, has scarcely been mentioned.

The People's Decision

The manner by which the utility levy can be made is patterned after the procedure of the library tax that is now in existence.

I find it rather odd, that many of the same people who bally-hoed right strenuously for a library and Bookmobile and for a million-dollar high school for the cultural betterment of our communities, now find it inopportune to endorse a vocational training school for the growing number of disadvantaged persons who need skills, who want to make a living wage, but who cannot afford the luxury of a college education.

We have wished long and hard for a Vocational training school for this area. We have considered it a great asset to procuring industry, as the Fulton-South Fulton Chamber of Commerce and the Fulton Rotary Club indicated by their enthusiastic endorsements.

Of course it will cost a little more money but, it is as Lorene Harding said at the Chamber of Commerce meeting: "I don't want to pay any more taxes than you do. But this is something we need, it's long overdue, and we'll just have to pay for it."

Yet, people like Mrs. Harding, and the members of the Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club, and many others, apparently can't make that decision if the Fulton City School Board declines to join the Fulton County School Board in petitioning, not so much for the funds, but to allow voters an opportunity to oppose, or approve the monies with which to build a vocational training school.

Taxes Can Be Lowered

Many people are uninformed with regards to the distribution of the monies derived in Fulton from a utility tax.

A large portion of the tax will be returned to the Fulton City School system on the basis of average daily attendance of students. It is NOT a tax levied against Fulton people to pay for a school in Hickman.

As a matter of fact, if the funds derived by the Fulton City School system are more than adequate to fulfill their present commitments, there can be a reduction in the local property tax, which as you well know, could stand a little reducing, don't you think?

Top-Flight Golfers In Ken-Tenn Event

"The Fulton Country Club is leaving no stone unturned to make the 1971 Ken-Tenn Invitational Golf Tournament one of the most successful in its history," Joe Treas, chairman of the event said today.

As in the past, the largest array of top-flight golfers in the West Kentucky and West Tennessee area is expected to participate in the event that will be held here on Saturday and Sunday, June 25 and 26. "We have many great golfers coming to compete from all over the area," he said. Many entries have already been received and others are coming daily, according to Mrs. Tom Westpheling, who is in charge of entries.

A new scoreboard is being erected under the direction of Jimmy Newton and sponsored by Pepsi Cola Company. All prizes will be golf equipment. Lunch will be served by the ladies of the Club on both Saturday and Sunday. The annual Ken-Tenn dance will be held on Saturday night, June 26 for the golfers and their wives.

Chairman Treas today announced the following committees for the tournament:

Scorers: Mrs. Tom Westpheling, Mrs. C. D. Jones, Jim Newton, Harry Reams, Charles Thomas and Charles Curtis. Rules: Bobby Scates, David Phelps, Wayne Cooper. Mrs. Harvey Jeffrey has charge of the girls, who collect score cards.

Mrs. Jasper Vowell and Mrs. Bobby Scates are in charge of getting the ladies to keep score for the championship flight. Frank Woolf and his Scout Troop will provide the caddies. Ken-Tenn dance chairman - Al Bushart.

Tents - James Needham of Hornbeak Funeral Home. Trophies - Charles Curtis and Lynn Newton. PA System - Bill Bennett. Decorations for clubhouse - Mrs. Ed Halley.

Publicity and Lineup - Helen King and Mrs. Thomas Mahan. Club president, C. D. Jones will present the trophies and prizes following the tournament.

Carborundum Company Plans Huge Expansion

The Carborundum Company has announced plans for expansion of the Graphite Products Division plant in Hickman, Kentucky. The Hickman plant manufactures graphite electrodes for the steel industry.

The planned expansion will help the Carborundum Company meet the increasing needs of the steel industry with a high-quality, total product line of electrodes. The Hickman, Kentucky, location is favorable for shipping by rail, truck, or water, and is approximately located in the geographic center of the major steel industries.

The expansion of the Hickman electrode plant will increase capacity by 40 percent. The new facilities will include a building, additional graphite furnaces, electrical gear, and other related equipment. Construction will begin immediately and is expected to be completed by February 1972.

Anthony M. Pisano, general manager of the Graphite Products Division, noted that the expansion announcement coincides with the fourth anniversary of the first shipment of electrodes from the Hickman plant. He estimated that the expansion would result in a 24 percent increase in employment. He further noted that the earlier action of simplifying the organization and product mix, along with the excellent cooperation and performance of the entire work force of the Hickman facility has enabled Carborundum to make this expansion possible.

The Fulton Lions Club has donated $500, the proceeds from their recent pancake supper, to the fund. The Lions have donated a total of $1,100 to the project, and their latest donation brings the fund to within $1,730 of the total needed (including the South Fulton pledge in the amount already raised).

Janet Pogue

Janet Pogue Joins Staff As Interne

The Hickman Courier, and the Fulton News are proud to have on their staffs Janet Pogue, a bright, young journalism student from Murray State University. Janet, of Poplar Bluff, Missouri, is at the two newspapers under the internship program of the Journalism Department of Murray State.

A good reporter, a feature writer with a flare for human interest stories, she weathered her first day at the Courier without being fired, although she said when told that she would fill the requirements: "I wouldn't bet on it."

Janet recently won the top prize in a national essay contest sponsored by Newsweek magazine. The subject of her essay was "The Values of High Education."

She attended Junior College in Poplar Bluff, Missouri before entering Murray State as a junior last year. She is 20 years old and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Pogue of Poplar Bluff.

Janet is eager to dig into some good feature stories of people and scenes around Hickman. The Courier editors suggest you give her a call.

Jaycees Plan Second Event On July 4th

On July 3, 1971 the Fulton Jaycees will be sponsoring their 2nd Annual July 4th Celebration. The activities will begin at 2 p. m. at the City Park with concession stands, carnival, bingo, and pony rides. A barbecue dinner will be served starting at 5 p. m. with a cake walk at 7 p. m. sponsored by the Jaycees. There will be a demonstration by the National Guard on helicopter medical evacuation followed by a huge fireworks display at dark, which will be followed by a teen dance. Tickets, which cover the barbecue dinner, helicopter demonstration, and fireworks display, will be $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for children and may be obtained from any Jaycee member. Come out and enjoy a 4th of July celebration you will never forget.

Fate Of New South Fulton Bank Hangs On Decision Of F. D. I. C.

The Farmers Exchange Bank of Union City, seeking to establish a branch in South Fulton, has received an expected "go-ahead" from the Tennessee Banking Department, (NEWS, last week story) but has yet to get the facility approved by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, The News learned this week.

Approval of both agencies is required before the branch can be established.

F. G. "Moe" Cavin, President of the Union City Bank, told The News on Tuesday of this week that FDIC approval was expected "at any time" and he expected no difficulty getting it. Other sources, however, stated that the FDIC is being asked to take a close look at the situation to see whether or not another banking facility is necessary to serve the needs of the Twin Cities.

Since it guarantees deposits, the FDIC is concerned with the strength of a banking operation and its potential for success. Cavin stated that the branch would be a "Full-Service" branch. "They are less concerned with state lines and political subdivisions than they are the physical area the bank serves," a source told The News Wednesday. "The fact that Fulton has two strong banks, with assets totaling nearly $20 million dollars, would seem to indicate that the greater community is being adequately served," the spokesman continued. South Fulton, the largest incorporated city in Tennessee without a bank or a branch, will soon have such a facility, according to F. G. "Moe" Cavin, president of the Farmers Exchange Bank of Union City. He said the Farmers Exchange

Bank has purchased a lot in South Fulton and its architect has designed the banking facility to be constructed there.

The structure will contain 3,500 square feet and be of contemporary design to blend in with other structures in the area. The branch will be constructed on property between Sears and the Liberty Supermarket on Highway 45-E, directly across from the Dairy Queen.

"We feel this is the best commercial lot in South Fulton and we are fortunate in obtaining it for our branch. We will announce soon the members of our South Fulton advisory board and hope to provide some stock for the South Fulton area," Mr. Cavin said.

According to Mr. Cavin, the bank will be devoted to customer service with five paying and receiving teller windows, three loan desks, a large community room and three drive-up windows.

He said it will provide full banking services such as commercial and agricultural loans, personal, auto and all types of installment loans along with such services as checking and savings accounts, Christmas clubs and safety deposit boxes.

It is hoped that the facility can be opened in November, he said. In the past South Fulton citizens have been served by two banks, both located in Fulton.

The new branch will be the second for the Farmers Exchange, its other being located in Rives.

Total assets of the Farmers Exchange is in excess of $15,250,000.

Kentucky Windage

(By P. W.)

Some weeks the world is full of happiness, some it is full of sadness. I guess I have been blessed with much happiness, but this week it is the other way around. Tuesday we received word that Annabelle Edwards, our long-time and beloved bookkeeper, had suffered a serious attack at the home of her daughter in Cleveland, Mississippi and was in "intensive care" there at the East Bolivar Hospital.

Annabelle, who had been in poor health since last fall, had decided to go stay with her daughter down in Mississippi until she felt better, and I had spent an hour talking to her last Saturday before her Sunday departure.

Kellena Holland told us that apparently Annabelle's attack came shortly after she reached Mississippi. Word received here Wednesday evening just before going to press indicates that she is "some better" but still in intensive care.

Then Wednesday morning we received a call that Lana Campbell's little baby son had just been found dead in its cradle. Just eight weeks ago I had the pleasure of announcing the birth of this youngster here in this column. Lana is a former employee of The News.

Lana had given her little son breakfast earlier Wednesday morning and about ten o'clock went to his cradle to bathe him and found that he had passed away. No reason has been discovered, and only the possibility of "heart failure" can be the medical explanation. (Continued On Page Four)

Mrs. Edwards Seriously Ill In Mississippi

Mrs. Annabelle Edwards, a former employee of the Fulton County News and a prominent and popular clubwoman in Fulton is under intensive care at the Bolivar County Hospital in Cleveland, Miss.

Mrs. Edwards, who has made her home in Fulton for the past several years left Fulton on Monday afternoon to make her future home in Hattisburg, Miss. Her daughter Mrs. Nell Meadows, who was accompanying Mrs. Edwards to Hattisburg said that they had decided to spend the night in Cleveland, Miss, where Mrs. Edwards became quite ill and was admitted to the hospital.

In a telephone conversation with Mrs. Meadows Tuesday the News learned that Mrs. Edwards is suffering from a blood clot in her leg and with heart failure. At the time of the call Mrs. Edwards was resting well, but her doctors reported that surgery on her leg might have to be performed when the heart condition is improved.

Mrs. Edwards was a long-time employee for the Illinois Central Railroad at many points on the system. Persons wishing to send cards may do so by addressing them to the Bolivar County Hospital.

RAPID PROGRESS: A small army of workmen is busy these days at the site of the new $500,000 Hadley Adhesive building in northwest Fulton adjacent to the IC's NEW Yards. (Above), steel framework for a giant new steel building will soon be covered as the rear building has been. The buildings, on a 7-acre site, will contain approximately 45,000 square feet of floor space.

Tennessee's Largest Catfish Farm Is The 417-Acre Creswell Layout Near Milan

In some respects, there's nothing much unusual about James Creswell's 417-acre, river-bottom farm near Milan, Tennessee. Like most farmers in his area, Creswell raises a fair-sized cotton crop each year. He also pastures a herd of around 40 beef cows and their calves. But at that point, he parts company with the average farmer.

His cotton and cattle operations occupy only a little more than half his total acreage. The rest of his farm is, by and large, covered with water. And it is in that water that he produces his most important crop. For Creswell is a practitioner of one of the country's newest and fastest growing forms of agriculture - catfish farming.

In his first year of operation—1966—he constructed 16 ponds totaling 30 surface acres of water. The second year he added another 50 acres and the third year, 90. In 1970 his catfish operation, which he calls Creswell's Holiday Lakes, produced 200,000 pounds of food fish and a million fingerlings. He also kept a stock of some 50,000 pounds of brood fish on hand.

Creswell's catfish farm is not as big as some of the vast fish-producing facilities in the prime catfish states of Mississippi and Arkansas. But it is the largest of its kind in Tennessee. And in many respects, it is more or less typical of the majority of large-scale catfish operations.

Like most fish farmers, Creswell produces primarily channel catfish, but he also raises a few blues and an albino channel strain. They are grown in a total of 27 ponds that range from three-quarters of an acre to 24 acres in size. The ponds are rectangular in shape, and the bulk of them are laid out side by side in a giant checkerboard pattern. They are watered from a series of deep wells, and an elaborate pumping and draining system makes it possible to adjust water levels at any time.

The annual production cycle in Creswell's operation begins in the spring when the water temperature hits 72 degrees, triggering the spawning urge in his brood fish. The fish spawn in cans placed in shallow water around the edges of the ponds. Fingerlings hatched from the spawn are held in rearing ponds for approximately a year. In the spring following their hatching, they are transferred to production ponds. Now averaging from six to eight inches in length, they receive a heavy ration of commercially milled feed for the next seven months or so. At the end of that period, they average about a pound each in weight and are considered market ready.

There's one advantage that you have with catfish that you don't have with any farm crop that I know of," Creswell says. "If the price isn't right when you get 'em ready for market, you can just hold 'em til it is right. A catfish, being cold-blooded, doesn't require but a very small amount of food to hold his own. He won't grow if you don't feed him much, but he won't starve to death like a hog or a cow or a chicken."

Because he has a reputation as a source of disease-free fish, Creswell sells quite a bit of brood stock to other fish farmers. He also markets hundreds of thousands of fingerlings to his fellow growers each year. A considerable number of his larger fish are purchased by operators of pay fishing lakes. But the bulk of his crop consists of fish intended for food. Unlike the average grower, he is not dependent on external market channels for the distribution of his food fish. He has his own processing facility, and he sells directly to grocery stores, fish markets, and restaurants without going through a middleman.

For every big, highly efficient operator like Creswell, there are many others who are in the catfish business on a much smaller scale. But regardless of their size, catfish farmers share one universal trait—they're all relatively new at the game. Little more than a decade ago, there was hardly such a thing as catfish farming. In 1960, no more than a few hundred acres were devoted to commercial catfish production in all of the United States. But shortly thereafter the business began to establish a foothold, and by 1963, some 2,400 acres were in catfish ponds.

The early development of catfish farming was centered in Arkansas and Mississippi. From there it spread to Louisiana, Alabama, Georgia, and Tennessee. Today, fair-sized catfish acreages also are found in Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas, and Kansas. But Mississippi is still the number one catfish state, and Mississippi and Arkansas together account for 75 percent of all commercial production.

In the mid-1960's, the catfish business really began to move. From 1963 to 1966, the amount of water in production rose from 2,400 to 15,000 acres. And it kept climbing—to 25,000 acres in 1968, to 35,000 in 1969 and finally to 50,000 in 1970. Figuring an average of 1,000 pounds of catfish for each acre of water, it is estimated that the harvest in 1970 totaled 50 million pounds.

The astounding growth of catfish farming is understandable enough. Producers who got an early start in the game, exercised good management and enjoyed a little luck reaped far better returns than they could ever expect from cotton or soybeans. On top of that, there seemed to be a ready market for catfish. And then there was the matter of the catfish's conversion ratio.

Conversion ratio is an agricultural term that denotes the number of pounds of feed that are required to produce one pound of meat. Catfish do a better job of turning feed into meat than any other U. S. farm animal. Under ideal conditions, a pound of catfish can be produced from as little as 1.25 pounds of feed. Compare that to the eight pounds of feed required to make a pound of beef, and it is easy to see why a lot of farmers couldn't wait to start growing catfish.

—Tennessee Valley "Perspective" Summer 1971.

"The railroads complain that they are regulated unfairly because they are subjected to total rate and entry control whereas trucks and barges are not. I agree," states Mr. George M. Stafford, chairman, Interstate Commerce Commission.

The Oregon Voter magazine notes that about 40 percent of the Earth's oxygen is produced by growing forests and other green land plants. Photosynthesis by ocean plant life produces most of the remaining supply.

POET'S CORNER

SOMETIME

Sometime when you're feeling important
Sometime when your ego's in bloom,
Sometime when you take it for granted,
You're the best qualified in the room.

Sometime when you feel that your going,
Would leave an unfillable hole,
Just follow this simple instruction
And see how it humbles your soul.

Take a bucket and fill it with water,
Put your hand in it up to the wrist,
Pull it out and the hole that's remaining
Is a measure of how you'll be missed.

You may splash all you please when you enter,
You can stir up the water galore,
But stop and you'll find in a minute
That it looks quite the same as before.

The moral in this quaint example is:
Do just the best that you can
Be proud of yourself, but remember—
There is no indispensable man.

MAJOR POINTS

& MINOR, TOO
By GORDON M. GUARINSTRON

ACAPULCO: The hotels that ring the bay remind the visitor of those on Miami Beach, but it's not fair to compare Acapulco with Florida's famed resort city. The beach here is much better, to begin with; the swimming is better; the view is better; there is a more relaxed atmosphere, and there is the Mexican touch that adds so much charm and color.

And there are contrasts here, too. The first came as our Mexican jet came in for its landing. The countryside was typically Mexican, small villages and the heavily-loaded burros visible in the bright sun. And suddenly we were in a gleaming airport, as modern as the fine hotels we later were to see along the beach.

Acapulco's contrasts help make it all the more interesting. And you don't need a room in a luxury hotel to enjoy the scenery, the fine beaches, the rolling surf and the warm water. The beaches are public, you see, and if you have a room in a low cost hotel or a casa de huéspedes (guest house) you pay only a fraction of what the beachfront visitor pays.

Newest and finest of the Acapulco hotels is the Paraiso Marriott, leased and operated by the Marriott Motor Hotel group. It has 442 rooms on 22 floors and is the only major hotel in Acapulco with entirely Mexican decor in a theme carried out with brilliant colors and abundant use of native marble, tile and woodwork.

A FAVORITE STORY: A boy who had hoped in vain for a new pair of high boots went on a strike at prayer time, explaining to his mother, "It's no use. Art doesn't listen." "Art who?" she asked. "Art in heaven," he sadly explained. — Dick Van Dyke.

THE FUNNY PAPERS CLASSIFIED AD: Two-story home Arlington on bus line near Holy Trinity Church. Very good condition. He was a lifelong resident of Jim Wells County and was a commercial panter. — Corpus Christi Caller-Times.

It's about time: For some serious thinking about auto safety belts...for too few people are using them!

SERIOUS PROBLEM Venereal disease is nothing to laugh or joke about...it's serious, and it's spreading. The American Social Health Assn. says one in 10 young women may have gonorrhea and not know it. Two million new cases were reported last year, but many have it without having it detected. Other known cases simply aren't reported. VD is spread only one way, through sexual intercourse. One infected person can start a chain reaction reaching hundreds.

William Scott, manager of Fry's Shoe Store, has been elected president of the Fulton Lions Club, succeeding Vyrion Mitchell.

Other newly elected officers are: Elbert Johns, first vice-president; Dr. J. L. Jones, second vice-president; William McDade, third vice-president; Dr. R. V. Putnam, treasurer; Charles Looney, tail twister; and Don Stephenson, lion tamer.

The board of directors consists of C. H. McDaniel, Warren Graham, Charles Gregory, and Uel Killebrew.

The Fulton Ice Company was kept busy day and night last week. All perishable cars of the Illinois Central, going north and south, had to be iced here. This was made necessary as ice company employees in Bluford and Centralia, Ill., were on strike.

Parents . . . . Know the Drug Threat

Today's Subject: Drugs and the Laws

No matter how much we discuss the matter of drugs and their misuse, there is still one incontrovertible fact: It is illegal. People using drugs, excluding those obtained by prescription and used according to directions, may land in jail, and their lives are affected for years to come.

For example, possession of Marijuana for personal use is a felony under federal law. A conviction could mean a sentence of not less than two years and not more than 10, for the first offense. When a person applies for a job, he is often asked to state whether he has ever been convicted of a felony. An affirmative reply, of course, would limit greatly his chances for being hired. Conviction on felony charges also means loss of voting rights.

Many state laws are more severe in their penalties for possession of Marijuana. For example, the state of Ohio specifies a maximum sentence of life in prison for selling Marijuana to people who are minors.

Many states specify Marijuana as a narcotic, but the federal laws do not, as of this writing. On the other hand, possession of LSD, a far more dangerous drug you will recall from our discussion in this series, was made a misdemeanor, subject to a fine and/or prison term, in changes made in federal laws. Prior to these changes, possession of LSD for personal use had not been a federal crime at all. Today about half of our states outlaw the possession of LSD, but the laws are changing constantly and tending to go in the direction of stiffer penalties.

J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, says, "The distance from the dare to try 'pot' (Marijuana), to 'mainlining' (injecting Heroin) is very short." Other law enforcement officers seem to feel that greater use of Marijuana, especially among youngsters, will probably lead them to the use of far more dangerous drugs.

Mind-influencing drug laws continue to change in recent years. Very important changes in federal law, making far stiffer penalties concerning dangerous drugs, were passed by Congress in just the last few years, in alterations in the Drug Abuse Control Amendments of 1965.

The main changes were: LSD was placed under the category and defined as "depressant or stimulant drugs" and possession for use was made a misdemeanor on the first offense. And, indicative of the trend, it is now a misdemeanor just to have Barbiturates, Amphetamines or other drugs of this type in your possession unless they have been prescribed by a licensed physician and were obtained through a valid prescription from him. Offenders can be fined as much as $1,000 and jailed for up to one year—or both—for the first or second offense on these charges if convicted. On third offenses or beyond, the maximum fine is now $10,000 and up to three years in prison OR BOTH! There were, however, some special provisions put into the law for people whose convictions were their first on possession charges. These allow courts to suspend sentence and put the person so charged and convicted on probation for up to one year.

Under the new federal changes, the penalty for unlawful sale, manufacture, delivery, or other disposal of, or possession with intent to sell a 'depressant or stimulant drug' or an 'involving counterfeit drugs of this type' has now become subject to fines of up to $10,000 or prison terms of up to five years—or both!

The illegal sale, delivery or other disposal of such drugs by persons over age 18 to those under age 21, now can bring fines up to $15,000 or prison terms for not more than 10 years, or both! For second and later offenses, the fine goes up to $20,000 and the jail term to 15 years.

Of course, there are many ins and outs to prosecution of the drug laws, and the courts across the land are being swamped more and more with drug cases, but all indications point to stiffer penalties and more stringent interpretations of existing laws for chronic offenders. And, this is what we MUST get across to our children and youngsters: the laws of the land will not let them destroy themselves with drug misuse if they are caught and eventually they will most likely be apprehended.

Next week will be our summary. Try to be with us to wind up this very important series, please.

An "oil boom" of gigantic proportions hit Fulton this week, with oil flowing through the city water mains and exciting the population no end; the drilling for the new city wells had just been completed and most residents thought the drilling had struck oil without knowing it. Investigation, however, revealed that: (1) The city had purchased a tank car of oil for street purchases; (2) That the demurrage on car kept growing larger and larger; (3) That officials found an old, abandoned well or reservoir at the city water plant and pumped the car contents into it; (4) That a pipe in the old well led to the reservoir in use, permitting the oil to circulate through the city water distribution system; (5) Somebody had a major cleaning operation on his hand. RESULTS: After fast, hard work, mains were flushed out clean; the same day it rained and also washed out traces of oil from its desired use on the streets.

Letters To Editor

Dear Editors:
I am renewing my subscription to the News for another year. My brother, Roy Hamlett, had it sent to me last spring when he was home. I can't begin to tell you people how much I enjoy reading my old hometown paper. I especially enjoyed the May 13 issue, with the 1967 aerial view. I could make out all the churches, Browder Milling Co., and the City Hall. I haven't been back to Fulton since 1966, so you can see why I am so anxious for each copy of the News. I read everything, ads and all.

Yours very truly,

TVA Plans No Quarterly Rate Increase

The TVA Board of Directors has conducted its quarterly review of the agency's power finances and has determined that no rate adjustment will be necessary for the quarter beginning July 1. Under a procedure adopted last year, the agency's prospective power revenues and expenses are reviewed every three months with representatives of the local electric systems that distribute TVA power. Then the TVA Board determines whether a rate adjustment—upward or downward—will be needed.

Miss Carmen Weaks, Lt. Moore Wed In Candlelight Ceremony

In a setting of elegant beauty, with the soft glow of candlelight accentuating the stately interior of the First United Methodist Church in Fulton, Miss Carmen Weaks exchanged wedding vows with Leland Thompson Moore. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lexie Parks Weaks of Fulton and the groom, a lieutenant, junior grade, United States Navy, is the son of Capt. and Mrs. Parkman Blake Moore of Trimble, Tennessee. The ceremony was held at 7:30 p. m. June twelfth.

Before a large assemblage of friends and relatives of the socially prominent couple The Rev. James Wilkerson, vicar of Trinity Episcopal Church, performed the double-ring ceremony at First United Methodist Church in Fulton. The wedding vows were pledged before an altar decorated with twin brass urns which held arrangements of white snapdragons, Killian daisies, gypsophila and jades. The chancel rail featured nests of huckleberry, jade and magnolia foliage with tall white tapers.

The choir loft held two large spiral candelabra with glowing white tapers. Beautiful emerald and jade fern balls were placed on either side of the candelabra. Brass and crystal aisle candelabra with smilax entwined and white satin bows marked the reserved pews for members of the families of the bride and groom.

Miss Nancy Luther, an accomplished organist of Mayfield, presented a program of nuptial music while the guests were being seated. Among her selections were: Organ Sonata VI, by Mendelssohn; Song of Peace, by Langlais and Ich Liebe Dich by Grieg. The bride, given in marriage by her father, entered the sanctuary to Purcell's "Trumpet Voluntary." During the impressive ceremony Miss Luther softly rendered "Chorale," by Bach.

Mendelssohn's traditional "Wedding March," was selected for the recessional.

The bride wore a formal gown of candlelight silk organza over peau de sole fashioned with a fitted empire bodice with a high wedding ring neckline, and long fitted ruffled sleeves. The exquisite gown, appliqued with matching Alencon lace, featured an A-line skirt with rows of lace to the hemline. The wide detachable train, scattered with motifs, was framed with lace extending to chapel length. Her imported French illusion veil cascaded to chapel length.

from a lace headpiece. The bride carried a Juliet bridal bouquet of white roses with lemon leaf foliage.

Miss Mariana Weaks, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. She wore a grass green linen sleeveless frock with V neckline and fitted bodice. The floor length dress was slightly gathered across the back with a small bow at the waistline.

The bridesmaids were the Misses Caroline Weaks, sister of the bride, Dee Fields, Fulton, Hazel Reeves, Huntsville, Alabama, Elissa Nathan, Oklahoma City, and Mrs. Thomas Huffman of Russellville, Alabama. Their gowns were identical to that of the bride, except for the small headpieces enhanced with fresh flowers complemented the color of their gowns. Each attendant carried a hand bouquet of tinted spring daisies and gypsophila.

Lieutenant Moore chose as his best man Mr. Robert Carlin of Dyersburg, Tennessee. The groomsmen were Blake Moore, Jr., brother of the groom, Mobile, Alabama; Mel Haas, Mobile; Lt. (jg) William Wittwer, Seattle, Washington; William Earle, Atlanta; James S. Wilkes, Jr., Dyersburg, Tennessee and Lt. Walter Edgar of Mobile. Acolytes were John Dicken, Jr., Lexington, Kentucky and Franklin Botts, Union City, cousins of the bride.

Mrs. Weaks chose for her daughter's wedding a blue and white crepe sleeveless dress modeled along Grecian lines featuring a matching stole. She carried an accessory corsage of phalaenopsis orchids. Mrs. Moore, mother of the groom, was attired in a dress of peach silk chiffon with bias paneling in the skirt. The bodice featured a design of beads and sequins. She wore a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. English Clark, Atlanta, maternal grandmother of the bride, wore a mint silk dress featuring a lovely beaded yoke. Mrs. Leslie Weaks wore a spring green chiffon with long flowing sleeves with beaded cuffs.

Mrs. Leland Thompson, Trimble, Tennessee, the maternal grandmother of the groom, wore a blue silk skirt with reem-broidered bodice. Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Weaks, and Mrs. Thompson wore white orchid corsages.

Following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained with a reception at the Fulton Country Club.

The bride's table was covered with a white cloth overlaid with white lace. White birdalters burned in silver candelabra on the table from which a three-tiered wedding cake and punch were served. The bride cut the cake with an heirloom knife. Serving were Misses Gwen Garner, Union City, Tennessee; Sally and Ann Millard, Chattanooga; and Virginia Parks, Trimble, Tennessee. Mrs. Mike Butts presided at the register. The Melody Men of Fulton provided appropriate background music for the reception.

After the reception the couple left on an unannounced western wedding trip. For traveling, the bride chose a below-the-knee length yellow and white sleeveless linen dress with wide patent leather belt. She wore a large straw hat with white flowers. She carried the white roses from her bridal bouquet.

Following their wedding trip the bride and groom will live in Seattle, Washington, where Lt. Moore is attached to the nuclear submarine USS Lewis and Clark.

Miss Judy Bizzle Makes Known Her Wedding Plans To Lee Green

The First Baptist Church of Fulton will be the setting at three o'clock Sunday, June 20 for the wedding of Miss Judy Bizzle to Mr. Floyd Lee Green III. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Bizzle of Fulton. Mr. Green is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lee Green, Jr. of Hickman.

The Rev. James Best, pastor of the church, will officiate at the wedding vows. A program of nuptial music will be presented by Miss Ginger Edwards at the organ and vocal solos by Mr. Swayne Hollingsworth.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, has chosen her sister, Mrs. Gary McDaniel, as matron of honor. Other attendants will be Misses Karen, Kathy, and Kim Green, sisters of the groom.

Mr. Green has chosen Donnie McKnight as his best man. His groomsmen will be Charlie Terrett and Jimmy Whipple of Hickman and Steve Fields of Fulton.

Following the wedding ceremony the bride's parents will entertain at a reception in Fellowship Hall at the church. No formal invitations are being issued, but all friends and relatives of both families are invited to attend the wedding and the reception following.

Miss Judy Bizzle Is Feted At Gift Tea And Reception

Miss Judy Bizzle, bride-elect of Lee Green of Hickman, was honored at a gift tea recently in Fellowship Hall of the South Fulton First Baptist Church.

Receiving the guests was Miss Bizzle, wearing a white knit dress trimmed with red and navy stitching and navy accessories. Her corsage was red carnations. In the receiving line was her mother, Mrs. Lewis Bizzle, wearing light blue knit with matching accessories. Her corsage was white mums.

Mr. Green's mother, Mrs. Floyd Green Jr., of Hickman, wore pink linen with white accessories and a corsage of white mums. Also in the receiving line was Mr. Green's grandmother, Mrs. Ernest Fields, wearing a soft green silk dress and a corsage of white mums. Mrs. Gary McDaniel, sister of the bride-to-be, served as the guest register. Assisting were Mr. Green's sisters, Kim and Kathy Green.

The gifts were displayed on tables covered with yellow cloths.

The refreshment table was covered with a yellow cloth and held an arrangement of yellow roses in the center with yellow candles in silver.

Hostesses were Mrs. John P. Emerson, Mrs. Wilburn Allen, Mrs. Wallace Ashby, Miss Bessie Jones and Miss Adolphus Latta.

Approximately ninety friends attended or sent gifts.

Seven Cadet Scouts Given Merit Badges

Seven troop 182 Cadet Scouts were awarded their First Class Merit Badges in a ceremony held Tuesday night in the basement of the First Methodist Church in Fulton.

Awarded the badges were Gigi Brock, Pattie Jolley, Sharye Owens, Debbie Marrow, Cindy Reese, Sue Ann Holloway, and Wilma Cloyse.

To attain this merit badge, which is the highest one offered in cadet scouting, the Girl Scouts must have earned six badges and have completed four challenges.

Awarded various badges at the same time were seven other members of the troop. These include Debbie Campbell, Ann Workman, Lillian Whitesell, Kim Brock, Kelly Buckingham, Becky Puckett, Wanda Loney, and Caroline Weeks.

Mrs. W. L. Jolley is the troop leader.

Murray Art Guild Plans June Event

The Murray Art Guild is once again sponsoring the Annual Western Kentucky Arts and Crafts Festival to be held on June 26 and 27 in the Conservation Education Center at Land Between the Lakes, located between Kentucky Lake and Lake Barkley in western Kentucky and Tennessee. The show, which will be held near Center Station, will be open to the public from 9 a. m. to dusk.

Exhibitors from Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri, Illinois, and Alabama will be displaying paintings, needlework, candles, ceramics, sculpture, and jewelry at the 2-day festival. Visitors will be able to see a potter at his wheel, artists painting at their easels, and candlemakers and other craftsmen at work.

Picnic areas are provided within the Conservation Education Center for visitors, and camping sites are located nearby. Light refreshments will be sold by the Murray Art Guild. In case of bad weather the show will be postponed to the week-end of July 3 and 4.

A special attraction at this year's show will be the presentation of a live musical program conducted by Mr. L. N. Clark, Assistant Professor of Music at Murray State University. In addition, square dancing exhibitions will be given by local clubs. Auditions for the program will be held on June 12 at Murray State University in the Recital Hall of the Fine Arts Building. Mr. Clark is particularly interested in country and western, gospel, and folk musicians.

AT BUSINESS COLLEGE Misses Donna Rushing, Judy Lynn Powell and Janice Adams are among the students now enrolled at the West Tennessee Business College at Jackson, Tenn.

Miss Thompson Plans Course On Macrame

Macrame, a revived craft that sailors created in years past, will be taught to the Fulton County Homemakers and their friends by Miss Trudy Thompson, June 22, at 1:30 p. m. in the Municipal Housing Assembly Room in Fulton. Miss Thompson has her masters degree in weaving and crafts from the University of Tennessee, and has displayed her crafts at most of the arts and crafts shows throughout the South.

Mrs. Charles Rowell, crafts chairman for the Fulton County Homemakers, will have charge of the program. Macrame is a technique of knot tying that can be used to make many attractive clothing or home accessories.

This is an open meeting, and anyone desiring to join this group to learn macrame may do so by calling the Cooperative Extension Office, 236-2351. The supplies needed for this lesson are a pair of scissors and a ball of string, size 15 or larger.

Ann Landers

— Your Problems Bring Answers —

Dear Ann Landers: My beautiful daughter is a magnificent 5'11" in stocking feet. When I tell you Eunice is gorgeous I am not exaggerating. People turn their heads to look at her when she passes on the street. I am not saying this because I am her mother. All my friends agree Eunice is breathtaking.

So what's the problem? Well, she brought home a man she says she wants to marry. He is a dried up little runt, at least six inches shorter than she is. He wears glasses and his hair is thin on top. He is only 26 and already he has lots of dental work in his mouth. That shrimp should be dating midgets.

I realize looks are not everything, Ann, but I am afraid for my daughter's unborn children. A person has to think about those things in advance. And after all, Eunice's children will be MY grandchildren. Do I have a point? Please tell me. — Upset in Little Rock

Dear Up. Yeah, you've got a point — but if you part your hair on the side, maybe nobody will notice it. My advice to you is keep your ideas to yourself. This dried up little runt could be the most wonderful husband in the world and a beautiful father for your grandchildren.

Dear Ann Landers: Several of my friends got busted last week. They were sitting around rapping in a gas station, smoking a little pot. The cops rushed in, took everybody down to headquarters and booked them. Getting caught with pot is a criminal offense in Texas. A guy can get fifteen years in prison for it. Isn't this wild? Some of those kids who were busted are just great, Ann. They aren't bums. Isn't it lousy that these neat kids will have criminal records for the rest of their lives just because they were blowing a little grass? Please say something in your column to help them. Thanks. — Houston Hank

Dear Hank: I agree it IS lousy that kids who get caught smoking pot will have criminal records for the rest of their lives. I have stated this position repeatedly in the column as well as from the speaker's platform but I will say it again. The laws on marijuana are much too severe in most states and they should be modified. The possession of pot should, in my opinion, be a misdemeanor and not a crime.

I am NOT, repeat NOT, in favor of the legalization of marijuana, however. Too little is known about this weed and its effects over a long period of time. But I do agree that what happened to your friends is unfortunate. Nevertheless, there's a lesson to be learned from it. The law is the law — even if it's lousy, and it should be respected.

Dear Ann Landers: I am

Miss Barron Makes Known Her Engagement To Mr. McKinney

Mr. and Mrs. Philip L. Barron of 511 North College Street, Fulton, Kentucky, are today announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their younger daughter, Shelia Gail, to David Neal McKinney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. McKinney, Route 2, South Fulton, Tennessee.

Miss Barron is the granddaughter of Mrs. Haley Glover and the late Mr. Edmond Glover of Fulton and the late Mr. C. J. McBride of Fulton and the late Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Barron and Mrs. Bertye Barron of Dyers, Tennessee. The bride-elect is a 1970 graduate of Fulton City High School, recently finished her freshman year at Murray State University, and will attend the University of Tennessee at Martin this fall as a sophomore majoring in Home Economics.

Mr. McKinney is the grandson of Mrs. Willena McBride and the late Mr. C. J. McBride of Fulton, and Mrs. Lela McKinney and the late Mr. R. L. McKinney of South Fulton. The prospective bridegroom is a 1969 graduate of South Fulton High School and will attend the University of Tennessee at Martin this fall as a junior majoring in Agriculture.

"Success," As A Whole-In-One Word

The first annual Hickman Country Club invitational golf tournament held over the weekend brought out 120 golfers from four states, saw the first hole-in-one scored on the course, and was generally an all-round success, according to enthusiastic club members.

Prizes ranging from a full set of McGregor Tournament golf clubs to golf balls and gloves were given to the high scorer in each of four flights. Trophies were also awarded to the winners.

Winners, with their scores are:

CHAMPIONSHIP FLIGHT
Max McDade ..... 146
J. D. Byrne ..... 148
Fred Lancaster ..... 148
Howard Cochran ..... 149
M. R. McNeill ..... 149

FIRST FLIGHT
Donnie McKnight ..... 165
Rav Andrus ..... 165
Clifford Mills ..... 167
Richard Wilkerson ..... 167
Bill Phelps ..... 170

SECOND FLIGHT
Mike Hagan ..... 174
Bobby Childers ..... 176
Tick Albritton ..... 176

THIRD FLIGHT
Jackie Graham ..... 189
Byron Maxley ..... 186
Richard Puckett ..... 190
J. K. Aschbacher, Jr. .... 194
Ed Thomas ..... 195

McDade, Fulton, took the lead early in the game when he fired a two-under-par 70 Saturday. He carded rounds of 36 and 34 on the par 36-36-72 nine-hole course.

In addition to the tournament winners, six balls were awarded as "thank-you" gifts to Helen King and Martha Mayham for the hard work they put into the tournament and the outstanding service they rendered.

Clifford Mills, Clinton, who described his hole-in-one as "the first one I've scored, but I hope not the last," was presented an engraved putter with his name and date of the "hole-in-one."

Sam Brown, chairman of the golf tournament committee, noted while awarding the prizes that it was "a good tournament." He acknowledged the fact that a large number of golfers over the 120 accepted had to be turned away because "it was just getting too big!"

Players from Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri, and Illinois paid the $15 entrance fee, which was used to purchase the prizes. As one member was quick to point out, "This isn't a money-making project. It just gives the golfers a chance to compete and us a chance to have a little fun."

A dance was held at the club Saturday night prior to the contest. The "Match Box Five" furnished the music.

Other members of the golf tournament committee were: co-chairman, Frances Henry; publicity, Bill Newton and Frances Henry; finance, Baby Doll Yarbro, Henry and Beverly Ruttinger; scorecards and handicapping, Cindy Hale, Ivan Sullivan, L. T. Hodges, Martha Hornsby; food, Roland Green; trophies and prizes, Phillip Grissom; rules and regulations, Erle Ezell and Frank Bird; coordinator, Martha Hornsby; entertainment, Bobby Garrison.

Technical advice was received from Joe Treas, Fulton postmaster, and Charles Thomas, superintendent of Fulton schools.

Five Residents Of Area Injured In Train Mishap

One Union-City man and four residents of the Fulton-South Fulton area were among those injured when the high-speed Illinois Central City of New Orleans passenger train was derailed in a flaming accident near Salem, Ill., Thursday afternoon.

The train was due to stop in Fulton at 3:31 p.m. and then pass through the Gibbs community and Rives en route to Memphis. James McMath, 25, son of Mrs. Oliver Truelove of Union City and a student at the University of Tennessee at Martin, had been visiting friends and was returning home on the train when the accident occurred.

His stepfather said today the student was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in Centralia, Ill.

"But he was just banged up a little, nothing serious," said Mr. Truelove. "We've already talked with him twice and he's alright." Eleven persons were killed and 94 injured in the tragedy.

The four Fulton area men all are employees of the railroad and work in the train's dining car.

They were identified as Ira Armstrong of Fulton and Harvey Vick, Hall Chambers and Treasure Rogers, all of South Fulton.

Mr. Rogers was scalded by hot water in the accident and was reported the most seriously injured of the area group.

Mr. Vick and Mr. Armstrong were undergoing treatment in Good Samaritan Hospital in ML Vernon, Ill., today and no report was available concerning their injuries.

Mr. Hall reportedly suffered a deep thigh laceration and an injured ankle. He was treated at Selmer, Ill., and later was released.

Other Tennesseans injured in the accident were Danny Barnes, Horace Clay, Lomas Payne Jr., Arnela Stampley, W. C. Jones and Adeline Routree, all of Memphis, and Clifton Tillman of Clarksville.

Vets Rep Coming Here On June 18

H. S. Miles, a Contact Representative of the Bureau of Veterans Affairs, will be present on June 18, 1971, at the Chamber of Commerce in Fulton, Ky., to assist veterans and their dependents with claims for benefits due them as a result of their military service. He will be present from 9:00 A. M. until 3:00 P. M.

Gov. Louie B. Nunn urged the Historical Events Celebration Commission to go to the people to determine what each area and community can best contribute to the Festival Kentucky '74 celebrations. The commission was established to plan the state's participation in the 200th anniversary of the founding of Harrodsburg, the oldest settlement west of the Alleghenies, and the 100th running of the Kentucky Derby in 1974.

They didn't spare the rod.
But they spoiled the child.

Thousands of children suffer the torments of the damned. Daily. And nightly.
It's called the battered-baby syndrome. These children are beaten with baseball bats, chains, and anything else some parents can get their hands on.
—They're burned with cigarettes, hot stoves and boiling water.
Some of them live through it. Thousands don't.
Nobody knows all the reasons why this happens. But medical and social agencies are trying to find the answers.
Medical science tells us that some immature parents who have a low level of impulse control consider crying or the dirtying of diapers by infants as a personal attack.

Other abusive parents, they say, reverse roles with the child. Thus, the attack on the child is really an attack on a part of themselves they don't like.
This is tragic enough. But it compounds itself. Children who survive abusive treatment often grow up to be abusive parents themselves.

Help these children. Every community has agencies that can offer protection to them and help for their parents.
Every case of child abuse should receive immediate attention. If you know of a case, the responsibility to report it is yours.
The children who receive help are the lucky ones.
God save the others.
From their parents.

Deaths

Arville Hart

Arville Hart, 68, retired Graves County farmer of Sedalia, Route 1, died at 4:45 p. m. Wednesday, June 9, at the Western Baptist Hospital in Paducah, following an extended illness.

Born in Graves County, Kentucky, September 14, 1902, he was the son of the late Richard (Bud) and Melissa Warren Hart. Mr. Hart was an active member of Masonic Lodge No. 644, Cuba; Royal Arch Masons No. 99, Mayfield; Mayfield Council No. 39; Fulton Council No. 63; Mayfield Commandery, Knights Templar No. 41. He was also a member of Cuba Eastern Star Chapter No. 519.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p. m. Saturday, June 12, at Cuba Baptist Church, of which he had been a member. Rev. Houston Southland and Rev. Charles Nelson officiated and interment was made in the church cemetery, with Jackson Funeral Home of Paducah in charge of arrangements.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. May Hart; three sons: Darrell Hart of Livonia, Mich.; Stanley Hart of Sedalia, Route 1, and Dwight Hart of South Fulton, Route 4; four daughters: Mrs. Joe Rainey, Daytona Beach, Fla.; Mrs. Richard A. Dublin of Denver, Colorado; Mrs. Hayden Watts, Palmersville, Tenn.; and Mrs. James Scott, Tusculum, Ala.; 17 grandchildren, two great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Lawrence C. Butler

Lawrence C. Butler, 65, Fulton Route 1, died unexpectedly at 10 a. m. Friday, June 11, near the Hickman ferry. Mr. Butler, a native of Graves County, was a retired glass worker.

Born July 17, 1905, in Graves County, he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Cheatham Butler.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Iva Louise Butler; four sons: Lawrence C. Butler, Jr., Poplar Bluff, Mo.; Eddie, Dale and Danny Butler, all of Fulton Route 1; two daughters: Mrs. Betty Robart and Miss Barbara Butler, St. Louis; a stepdaughter, Mrs. James Pate, Fulton; three stepsons: James and Donnie Webb, Villa Ridge, Ill., and Mike Webb, Fulton; two sisters, Mrs. Georgia Potts, Paola, Kansas, and Mrs. Maude Gray, Hickman; and a brother, James Butler, Statesville, N. C.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p. m. Sunday, June 13, at the Hornbeak Funeral Home with the Rev. Lawrence Tittle, and Rev. Jerry Rollins officiating. Interment was in Greenlea Cemetery.

Mrs. Ada Moss

Mrs. Ada Lulu Payne Moss, 92-year-old South Fulton resident, and widow of Brown Moss, a Fulton grocer, died suddenly Saturday, June 12, at her home, at 317 East State Line.

Born October 14, 1878 in Obion County, Tennessee, she was the daughter of the late John H. and Sara E. McDowell Payne. Her husband preceded her in death in 1938.

She was one of the oldest members of the First United Methodist Church.

Services were held Monday, June 14 at 3:30 p. m. at the Hornbeak Funeral Home Chapel, with Rev. William C. Adams officiating. Interment was in Fairview Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Henry Bethel, Aaron Butts, James Phillips, R. A. Binford, Alex Leneave, and Gerald Rhodes. The only survivors are a cousin, Mrs. Frank Wiggins of Fulton, and a niece, Mrs. Murray McConnell of Florida.

Pfc. Victor Damons

Funeral services for Pfc. Victor Lynn Damons, 18, were held at 2 p. m. Tuesday, June 15, at Hornbeak Funeral Home in Fulton with the Rev. Gerald Stow officiating. Interment was in Oak Grove Cemetery with full military rites.

Pfc. Damons, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Damons, near South Fulton, was killed in a traffic accident in Greece June 6. Five other soldiers were killed when the touring bus in which they were riding collided with a car driven by a civilian.

Survivors include his parents; four brothers: Michael, Jeff, Joel and Randy Damons; and a sister, Stacey Ann Damons. Funeral Home was in the Acree cemetery.

ROUTE THREE

Mrs. Aline Williams

Mr. and Mrs. William Foster of New Jersey are visiting relatives and friends here on their vacation. We are always glad to see Bubber and Josephine.

Mrs. Nell Winstead was able to attend church Sunday but still isn't feeling very well.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cannon had one of their grandsons visit with them last week.

Mrs. Lottie Hendrix spent a couple of days with her sister-in-law in Paducah last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Revel Moody visited with Mr. and Mrs. Buck Gordon and family a while Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvie Williams visited Mr. and Mrs. Everett Williams Saturday afternoon.

It seems the folk that put their garden out early are enjoying their new potatoes, beets, onions, beans and squash. I cooked my first green beans today.

Our garden is sorry this year but we have a late one planted.

Mrs. Aline Williams and Mrs. Ruby Moody visited Mrs. Maggie Pankey and Mrs. Annie Seay

Four-Lane US 51

To Be Discussed

The Tennessee Department of Highways has called a meeting in Dyersburg for July 12 to discuss five alternate routes for a four-lane U. S. 51 which would run from north of Newbern to the Fowkes community in south Dyer County.

All of the proposed routes would intersect with the proposed route leading from the interstate bridge now under construction across the Mississippi River.

Dyersburg city officials are expected to appear at the meeting and take a firm stand against one proposed route which would miss the city by several miles on the east. The city is expected to favor a proposal which would have U. S. 51 and I-55 connect at Dyersburg's industrial park, thus giving Dyersburg a second bypass.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Howard visited with Mr. and Mrs. Henson Jones a while Sunday night. There was a homecoming day at Oak Grove Sunday with dinner spread at lunch time and singing in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Minard Nanney of Detroit visited with Mr. and Mrs. Henson Jones one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Williams visited with Mr. and Mrs. Hillman Collier a while Saturday evening.

Bubber Foster and Wade Yates visited Everett Williams a while Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Carr are building a beautiful new brick home in Pilot Oak.

Japan had a record total of 63,787 fires last year, 7,000 more than in 1969. The blazes killed an average of 4.4 persons a day.

Introducing Our Churches - God's Agency For Spreading His Love

PALESTINE METHODIST CHURCH

REV. DANNY UNDERWOOD
Pastor

When David and Augustine Browder settled in this community, there was no home available for them. After a two or three years' struggle, they finally had their home built, and it was there that a traveling Methodist preacher found lodging and a place to hold services. David was not a Christian at the time, but he soon found Christ.

In 1834 the first church was organized by David and Mary Browder, Augustine Anna Browder, Darthens Craig, Durrell and Polly Phillips, Enoch Baker, James and Ellen Browder, under the administration of Presiding Elder George W. Harris, with Wilke B. Edwards and Thomas Boswell ministers in charge. Elder Harris named the church Palestine.

The present church was built in 1925 and 1926, after the old church burned. A basement was built and recently new stairs and a railing.

Rev. Danny Underwood is presently the pastor.

Miss Janet Adams Attends 4-H Conference In North Carolina

Among the 250 delegates to the 16th annual 4-H Regional Resource Development Conference at Fontana Village, North Carolina, was Miss Janet Adams from Fulton County. Twenty-seven boys and girls from Kentucky attended the week-long event which drew 4-H'ers from the seven states in the Tennessee Valley. One of the major goals of the conference was to help 4-H'ers understand how their future is related to the development and use of our natural resources.

Assembled in a resort village near the Great Smoky Mountains, the youth participated in workshops conducted by specialists from Valley state universities. The 4-H'ers were selected for the trip on the basis of their outstanding 4-H activities and leadership.

The conference is sponsored by the Extension Service of the land grant universities of the Tennessee Valley states, the Tennessee Valley Association of Test Demonstration Farm Families and the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The seven states involved were Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia.

Miss Adams is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Adams, Rush Creek Community. She is a Junior at Fulton County High School and is President of the Fulton County Teen 4-H Club.

KENTUCKY WINDAGE----

planation, I am told. John Andrew ("Andy") Campbell is to be buried today (Thursday) afternoon in Memorial Gardens, and our heartfelt sympathies to this grieving family. He would have been two months old next Monday June 21st.

Our apologies to Mrs. Jamie Wade and to John and Wally Earles, all of whom had interesting feature stories in our files that we had expected to publish but will have to forego. Perhaps we will have an opportunity later.

There's an interesting post script to the editorial on page 2 about "catfish farming", which I found in the just-released TVA magazine. In Tuesday night's Union City Messenger there was another on the same subject, this one about Bill Hall and his big private fishing layout down at Samburg.

According to the Messenger's writer, Harold Norrid, Hall has a big hatchery located across Indian Creek and up on the edge of the Lake bluffs above Samburg and plans to raise catfish in cages in the 20 lakes and ponds he is building.

In addition, Hall is going into the "hybrid Sunfish" business, says Norrid. The hybrid Sunfish resembles bream and bluegill, except that they grow to around two or two-and-a-half pounds in size, and this crop is being closely watched by the State Game and Fish Commission as a possible new species for sport fishing.

Sunday Graduation

The commencement program for the Vacation Bible School being conducted this week at First Baptist Church will be held Sunday night at 7:30, according to W. L. Williamson, School principal.

The processional "Praise the Lord, the King of Glory" will be used. Following the service, parents and guests will view the work in the various departments and refreshments will be served.

BIG SALE

The auction of household furniture and farm equipment at the Jonakin Home in the Chasol Hill Community brought $14,780, the administrator said today. The acreage and house will be sold later. Haywood Jonakin, and James Odom were found shot to death on April 25 at the Jonakin home.

MSU Band To Have Girl Flag-Bearers

MURRAY, Ky. — An eight-member unit of girl flag-bearers will be the newest addition next fall to the Marching Thoroughbred Band at Murray State University.

Roger Reichmuth, marching band director, said the flag unit will work with the band in precision drill and also do some separate routines of its own. Members of the band unit will attend all band rehearsals and participate in all performances.

He added that the flag unit is the latest in a series of "new-look" ideas, including new band uniforms, and enlarged membership and a majorette line of outstanding talent.

Auditions for the flag unit will be held during the annual Murray State University band camp Aug. 25-28. Girls interested in an audition should contact Roger Reichmuth, Marching Band Director, Price Doyle Fine Arts Building, Murray State University, Murray, Kentucky 42071.

KEA Asked For Price Tag

The legislative interim Committee on Education agreed Friday to ask the Kentucky Education Association how much its 1972 legislative package would cost.

The committee voted without dissent to invite the KEA leadership to its next meeting, sometime after Labor Day, to give its estimate of the cost of each proposal in its legislative program. In the meantime, the committee also asked its staff to prepare its own cost estimate of the program, point by point.

The KEA so far has steadfastly refused to put any figures on any aspect of its program when asked to do so by newsmen. Other estimates have put the cost at around $100 million for the most expensive part of the program — four six per cent raises for teachers for the 1972-74 period; the figure varies greatly depending on how it is computed.

The cost of the KEA program became a major issue in last month's campaign for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Lt. Gov. Wendell Ford, the winner of that contest, charged that his principal opponent, former Gov. Bert T. Combs would raise taxes to pay for the program. Combs had endorsed the entire KEA program.

State Rep. Nell Guy McNamara, D-Mt. Sterling, asked at the committee meeting if the KEA leadership should not be asked to suggest tax increases to pay for its program as well. Her suggestion was not acted upon.

State Rep. Sherman Arnett, D-Clearfield, objected strongly to Mrs. McNamara's comment, saying, "Education always has taken the leadership in proposing taxes while other agencies have taken a ride on the horse."

He explained that other state agencies such as the child welfare and economic security departments have benefited from the tax increases but have not gone out asking for them.

Arnett also declared that education has "taken, it on the chin," when criticism has arisen over new taxes.

The committee also expressed its displeasure and concern over the state Board of Education's refusal to repeal a regulation which allows it to waive any of its other regulations by majority vote.

Rep. Arthur Schmidt, R-Cold Spring, said the regulation had the potential of being the most dangerous of any filed by any state agency.

The long range effect of such a regulation, he said, could be that the General Assembly would enact by law what is now in many regulations, which then could be changed only every two years when the legislature meets.

The Board of Education says the regulation is needed in order for it to waive certain requirements of other regulations from time to time. Examples of such provisions are calamity days and the requirement for each high school to be on 10 acres of ground, which is impractical in parts of Eastern Kentucky.

Committee and staff members said such waivers could be handled in the regular way, by filing them as emergency amendments on an individual basis. They then could be put into effect immediately upon being signed by the governor.

The committee also voted to set up a subcommittee to see what is being done in innovative education in Kentucky and another to consider legislation to give tuition grants to students at independent private colleges.

MSU Student Selected For NASA Program

FULTON, Ky. — Tommy Powell, son of Howard Powell of Fulton and a senior at Murray State University, has been selected to participate in a six-week special study course at Langley NASA Research Center at Hampton, Va.

Powell, a graduate of Fulton High School and a Vietnam veteran, is majoring in industrial education at MSU with a specialized area in drafting. He will be awarded six college hours credit for the NASA course.

His wife is the former Mary Elizabeth Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vyrion Mitchell Sr., of Fulton, and is a member of the Rhea School faculty in Paris, Tenn.

Powell will leave Saturday for his assignment at Langley.

Fulton Class Reunion To Hear Ex-Principal

FULTON, Ky. — W.L. Holland, retired Fulton City Schools superintendent and former Fulton High principal, will be the main speaker at the big reunion of Fulton High graduating classes, 1939-40-41-42, which will be held in Fulton on July 15, 16 and 17.

The program for the event was announced today by Ouida Jewell, reunion secretary and program chairman.

Joe Treas, reunion president, will be master of ceremonies at all events. Holland will speak at the pool-side banquet at the Holiday Inn July 16 at 8 p.m. Teachers who taught this group in school are invited to this event.

Others on the Friday night program will include: Mrs. Doris Freeman, TV's "Cousin Tuny" of Jackson, Tenn.; Mrs. Joe Treas, who will present vocal selections, and David Homra, who will award prizes to the various members.

Cousin Tuny and her band will entertain and furnish music for dancing on Saturday night at the dinner-dance at the Holiday Inn.

A pre-reunion dinner will be held at The Derby in the Kentucky Room July 15, at 8 p.m.

Registration for the event, which is expected to attract approximately 300 members, wives, husbands and children, will get underway at noon July 16, in the hospitality suite of the Holiday Inn.

The registration fee is due by June 15, and should be mailed or taken to Joe Treas, local postmaster. The fee is $17.50 per person.

All-Time High Expected During MSU Summer Term

MURRAY, Ky. — Enrollment for the eight-week summer term at Murray State University is expected to be near the all-time high mark of two years ago when students register Monday.

Wilson Gantt, dean of admissions and registrar, said his estimate is based on the number of inquiries, applications by new students, and actual notifications by students they will attend.

Last summer's enrollment of 3,202 was seven less than the record high of 3,209 students in 1969. An additional 465 students attended the three-week intersession following summer school in 1970.

Classes for the summer session this year begin Tuesday, June 15, and continue through Aug. 6. A large selection of both graduate and undergraduate courses is available.

Gantt said the alphabetical order of registration for summer school will be A-Z for graduates and for each undergraduate class. He listed the following registration hours June 14 in the ballroom of the Waterfield Student Union Building:

Graduates—8:15 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.
Seniors—8:15 to 9:40 a.m.
Juniors—9:40 a.m. to noon.
Sophomores—Noon to 1:50 p.m.
Freshmen—1:50 to 4 p.m.

He added that the rate of registration for graduate students is estimated to be A-L between 8:15 a.m. and 1 p.m. and M-Z between 1 and 4:30 p.m.

Gantt pointed out that students may register as late as Thursday, June 17, provided they attend classes on that date. He also noted that a participant in a workshop scheduled during the summer may register June 14 or on the first day of the workshop.

Students may take up to 10 semester hours of course work during the summer term. Most classes meet one hour a day, five days a week, with some variation in courses including laboratory or field trip requirements.

SBA Official Planning Visit

A representative of the Small Business Administration will be at that Agency's part-time office in the City Hall on the First Floor, Paducah, on June 17, as announced by R. B. Blankenship, SBA District Director. The office, operated on a semi-monthly basis every first and third Thursday, will be open from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

In addition to an SBA loan representative, there will be a SCORE (Service Corps of Retired Executives) Counselor available to talk with small business inquirers. SCORE representatives in the Paducah area are Robert E. Sachs and Ross L. Cochran.

Registration Deadline Near For ETS Test

MURRAY, Ky.

About two weeks remain for prospective teachers who plan to take the National Teacher Examinations at Murray State University July 17 to submit their registration to Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N.J.

Dr. Donald Rye, director of the testing center at Murray State, said registrations for the examinations must reach the Princeton office not later than June 24.

"Bulletins of Information" describing registration procedures and containing registration forms may be obtained from the Murray State testing center or directly from the National Teacher Examinations, Educational Testing Service, Box 911, Princeton, N.J., 08540.

A candidate at the one-day session may take the Common Examinations, which include tests in professional education and general education, and one of the 21 teaching area Teaching Area Examinations designed to evaluate his understanding of the subject matter and methods applicable to the area he may be assigned to teach.

Each candidate will receive an admission ticket advising him of the exact location of the center to which he should report, Dr. Rye said.

Candidates for the Common Examinations will report at 8:30 a.m. on July 17 and should finish about 12:30 p.m. Teaching Area Examinations will begin at 1:30 p.m. and should be finished at approximately 4:15 p.m., according to the time schedule of ETS.

National Recreation Trail Established Near Aurora

AURORA, Ky.

Long Creek Trail in the Land Between the Lakes area near here has been approved by the Interior Department as one of the first National Recreation Trails designated under recent legislation.

Long Creek Trail, according to TVA, was designed to give the physically handicapped visitor an opportunity to enjoy the area's plant and animal life. TVA officials also announced

"open house" at various facilities at recent "valley mobilization week," which attracted more than 450,000 visitors.

Several environmental and other laboratories are open to the public and special tours were conducted during TVA's 38th anniversary celebration.

The U.S. spent more than $4.5 billion to dispose of 350 million tons of garbage.

AFTERNOON RELAXATION — Mrs. Eula Henson, 76, spends her free afternoons at her favorite pastime—quilting. Mrs. Henson is one of a continually decreasing number, to practice the age-old craft of quilting.

Quilting, A Dying Art, Still Is Practiced By Paducahan

By ERNIE HEARION-Sun-Democrat Staff Writer

Along with the horse and buggy, the butter churn, house raisings and homespun cloth, one more telltale remnant from Kentucky's folklore past is fast becoming only a memory.

There was a time when if the woman of the house had spare time her only recreation was calling the neighbors in for an afternoon of friendly conversation and quilting.

The highlight of any rural week was the quilting bee.

But this is fast becoming a relic of the past. Although a few elderly women and an even fewer number of younger women, practice the age-old craft of quilting, it seems as though it is destined to join antiquity.

Of the few women left who practice the craft, Mrs. Eula Henson is one.

Mrs. Henson, 76, of Ella Mural Courts in Paducah, began to quilt before she was 16 and has continued for the last 60 years.

She explains the process of quilting as the sewing together of a lining and a patterned top with a cotton layer between. According to Mrs. Henson, the art of "piecing" together a pattern is the most interesting aspect of the craft.

The pattern may come as one of more than 100 different designs, of which Flower Garden is her favorite.

Mrs. Henson explains that she "would rather quilt than do anything else in the world."

When asked why the craft is becoming more rare, she explained that it is related to the reason people quilted in the beginning.

"We women didn't have any other form of entertainment when I was young, so we would quilt," she said.

"We didn't have television and other things like that," she added, "and there was hardly anyone I knew that didn't make their own quilts."

Mrs. Henson explained further that the work involved is even more directly related to the fewer number of quilters.

"It takes me a month or more to make a complicated quilt," she said. "That means working six hours a day."

For those who sell their products, the pay isn't considered adequate, according to Mrs. Henson who remembers when she and a friend would earn 25 cents a day for their labor.

"Every time I think about making a quarter a day, I laugh," she commented.

As in many handicrafts, the product of quilting depends on its quality.

"My daughter still has quilts I made for her 25 years ago," she said, "and that's after several youngsters have grown up on them."

A. C. Butts and Sons and Wayne Feeds congratulates our AREA DAIRY MEN and urge you to use MORE dairy products.

Living Proof of performance of Wayne's Dairy Program

(Above): Graves Paschall, Hazel, Kentucky, shown with "Paschall Favorite Rubie" ... who on April 8, 1970 completed D. H. I. A. test of 64 pounds of 5.6 butterfat milk.

Mr. Paschall stated that "Since we changed to WAYNE HIGH-FLOW PELLETED MILKER, I feel that my butterfat test is somewhat better, breeding conception is higher, and cows stay in good flesh."

Mrs. Paschall added that "WAYNE CALF KRUNCH has certainly helped our calf program."

Aerial Spray Stops Blight, Corn Specialists Announce

SEBREE, Ky. — The deadly Southern corn leaf blight can be controlled through the use of a new technique for the spray application of any blight-effective fungicide.

F. B. Stull and other corn specialists provided evidence to support this claim at a special five-state blight-control conference at the Roy Stull farm near Sebree, in Henderson County, last week.

Stull described the application method "as a system that puts the fungicide on target—the plant leaves—and keeps it there even under rainy conditions that permit the corn blight fungus to develop rapidly." Previously, spraying had to be repeated often to be effective.

"Two or three aerial sprayings at a total cost of $14 an acre should provide all of the protection a corn crop needs," Stull told farmers at the conference from Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Tennessee and Missouri.

The spray Stull described is based on vegetable oil and water emulsion.

High School while Dr. Doran was principal and coach and Mrs. Doran was a teacher. Miss Clapp is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Clapp of Wingo. Mr. Clapp is a state representative from the 3rd District, the same area Dr. Doran represented for four terms. Miss Shreve is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Shreve of 1207 S. 12th St., Mayfield.

Freeman Wins Memphis Post

John Freeman, who Friday was named superintendent of Memphis City Schools, is the husband of an Obion County woman and is well-known in this area.

Mrs. Freeman is the former Rebecca Moore, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Moore of the Woodland Mills community. She is the sister of J. R. Moore, manager of radio station WENK, and Robert C. Moore, prominent Obion County farmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman, who recently celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary, have been frequent visitors to Obion County in past years and have made many friends here.

She and her future husband met while both were attending the University of Tennessee at Knoxville and were married shortly thereafter. They have four daughters—Mrs. Randy Terrell, Martha, Jeanie and Linda.

The Memphis Board of Education selected Mr. Freeman for the important position from a list of 52 applicants for the job, surrendered by E. C. Stimbert, who resigned to become Tennessee Superintendent of Education. Mr. Freeman had been serving as acting superintendent since January.

Mr. Freeman, who attended schools in Memphis and has worked for the Board of Education for 24 years, received both his bachelor's and master's degrees from U-T Knoxville.

He was voted a three-year contract as superintendent at an annual salary of $31,500.

Edgar H. Bailey, school board president, characterized Mr. Freeman as "a warm, human person, a man who gets things done."

Mr. Freeman's first official actions after being handed the reins were to recommend that Shelby D. Counce be named deputy superintendent and that Ernest Ray Holt be made assistant superintendent of the department of business affairs. Both recommendations won unanimous approval by the school board.

Ken Curtis To Appear At Rodeo

SIKESTON, Mo. — Ken Curtis, star of the TV series "Gunsmoke," will appear for all performances of this year's Jaycee Bootheel Rodeo to be held Aug. 12-15.

Curtis, also known as Festus to "Gunsmoke" fans, has appeared in such films as "The Searchers," "The Alamo," "The Quiet Man," "How The West Was Won," and "Cheyenne Autumn."

Gene R. Yokley, publicity chairman of the 19th annual event, in making the announcement of the performer's return engagement, said Curtis probably was the most popular star ever to appear at the Jaycee Bootheel Rodeo.

Why Pick On Harold?

By Harold J. Norrid
Did William Shakespeare once ask in his writings, "what's in a name?" I think he went on to say that "a rose by any other name smells as sweet" but that is beside the point. I don't want to talk about roses. I want to talk about a name—"HAROLD."

Everybody knows by now that my name is Harold but nobody knows why, not even my mother. She just came up with it one day out of nowhere. There isn't another Harold (except for my oldest son) in any branch of the family that I know of. Lots of folks call me by my middle name—that is, Joe. I think I will start encouraging this name change, mostly on account of those screwy television commercials. It was bad enough when the very funny comedian, Bill Cosby, started telling some hilarious stories about his friend, "Old Weird Harold"—I have been called weird before he ever thought of the character, but the situation has deteriorated even further since that time. Everytime you turn on the TV set you see some commercial or other which features some stupid boob who is referred to as "Harold" by another actor or actress. You have seen one of them, I know. This guy is in bed with a terrible-cold in his nose and his wife, Mildred, feeds him a little cup of a highly alcoholic potion which allows Harold to get a good night's sleep. Harold says, "I'm lucky to have you, Mildred," and dear old Mildred says, "I know, Harold." Not every wife pours medical alcohol into her husband!

I don't take any of this personally, of course, but why pick on us Harolds? It is a perfectly good name, especially in some of the Northern European and Scandinavian countries where there have been several kings named Harold. The name means "leader of men" in the Danish language. I learned several years ago while looking through a book of names for babies. I tried to tell the U.S. Navy that but it didn't get me out of the Navy version of KP at all.

What about your name? If you happen to be named Bruce, you should be more aggravated than us Harolds. "Bruce" as a name has been the subject of quite a few sly innuendos from the TV comedians lately. I happen to know that Bruce is a good Scotch name and it has a meaning which I can't remember (we threw away the name book when we quit having visits from the stork.)

If you are naming any babies in the near future, you might want to give a little thought to what you are laying on the kid. Pick a good Biblical name. All of those have an interesting meaning which is not likely to embarrass the poor child later.

If it's a boy, try Benjamin. There are gangs of those in my family. Benjamin was the father of one of the Tribes of Israel and the name means "son of the right hand."

Drainage Work Hit By Warvel

The director of the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission has taken a stand against the continuation of channelization work on the Obion and Forked Deer river systems.

Harold Warvel, testifying Wednesday in Washington before a congressional subcommittee, said the drainage work done by the U.S. Corps of Engineers has contributed to a decline in stream fishing.

The House subcommittee on conservation heard Mr. Warvel declare that such projects in the future should be planned by some agency not involved in the actual work.

Ed Jones Reports

The demonstrations which have gripped the nation's capital in recent weeks, bring to mind several questions. Demonstrations are quite common in this city, but by and large they are peaceful affairs, with the participants concentrating on the task of making their grievances known. Late in April, the Vietnam Veterans against the war came to the city. Their method of attracting attention to their cause was to stage mock battles in conspicuous places, but one of their members was invited to testify before a Senate Committee. On their last day, they formed a long line and one by one threw away their medals.

The following week saw the disruption tactics of the May Day group. These people came to the city with the stated purpose of throwing a monkey wrench into the machinery of our national government and forcing it to grind to a halt. Although few people realized it, the disruption was supposed to express the demonstrators' opposition to the war.

This latter group staged sit downs at the justice department and at the Capitol. They also tried to bring Washington traffic to a standstill.

During the morning rush hour on Monday, they stalled automobiles on busy intersections. They threw nails, garbage cans and anything else they could find onto the streets. They let the air out of the tires of parked cars and pushed them into the line of traffic. When cars were forced to stop, they stole their distributor caps.

The bridges leading into the city from the Virginia suburbs are packed with cars during the rush hour, and these bridges become focal points for the demonstrators. However, the police and the federal troops kept the traffic flowing at a pace faster than normal most of the time.

As I write this column, both groups have gone, and the war in Vietnam goes on.

The first question which arises is "What good did it do?" About the only thing I can see is that the demonstrators seem to have had a wonderful time. They can return home and be idolized by their peers for their idealism and courage. Yet the war goes on.

What harm did it do? For one thing, it cost the taxpayers a tremendous amount of money. The exact sum is not yet known. Cleaning up a mess is an expensive operation. Furthermore, it costs a great deal to move troops from one place to another and to sustain them in their temporary location. The people who had their automobiles damaged (a few were turned over and others were burned) will have to pay out of their own pockets.

Another example of the effect of the demonstration is illustrated by the attitude of a Midwest Congressman. He told me that he had almost made up his mind to vote for the bill to place a December 31st deadline on the withdrawal of our troops from Vietnam. But now, he said, he was afraid that such a vote would associate him, in the minds of his constituents, with the disrupters who tried to shut down our national government.

Even if the President wanted to bring our troops home immediately, he could not because he would almost certainly be accused of knuckling under to the tactics of the disrupters. Thus, the very cause espoused by the demonstrators has suffered. And the war goes on.

A young lady who had just heard me express the views I have written here, asked me just what I thought people should do, if not demonstrate, in order to get a response from their government. I am sure that my answer did not give her much satisfaction, but I told her to write her views to her elected officials.

Few men in public life can afford to ignore their mail, and most of the Members of Congress will tell you that they are influenced more by the mail from their constituents than by any other factor. An elected official who is not responsive to the will of the people he represents cannot long hold his office.
